Dedication

To Mrs. Lois T. Miller, whose intellectual superiority, character, and refinement have deeply impressed us, the members of the Annual Staff respectfully dedicate the 1964 Tiger.

Mrs. Miller has been an English teacher at Auburn High School since 1959. She has much experience in the teaching profession and has been an outstanding faculty member.

Mrs. Miller has attended the national convention of the National Council of Teachers of English several times. In 1961 she attended the convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She presented a paper on the interpretation of the poem "Creation" by James Weldon Johnson while attending the convention at Miami Beach, Florida, in 1962. This year she again attended the convention, which was held in San Francisco, California.

Numerous articles and poems by Mrs. Miller have appeared in such literary publications as The Wilson Library Bulletin, Delta Kappa Gamma Bulletin. The Library Journal, The Alabama Librarian, Creative Writing, and The English Journal. For the past seven years, she has had a poem included in the National Poetry Anthology.

Mrs. Miller's students find her classes interesting and stimulating even though work of the highest quality is required of them.

Students at Auburn High School have a variety of clubs from which to choose. Students may exercise their creative abilities and musical talents through Annual Staff, Tiger Tales, band, or chorus. Those who wish to serve their school and community may do so by participating in a service club such as Junior Civitan or Key Club. Some students prepare for future occupations through F.T.A., F.F.A, F.H.A., Science or Projection Clubs. Representatives are elected from each class to serve on the Student Council. Outstanding students are honored by membership in Quill and Scroll, Honor Society, or "A" Club.

Any student can find an organization to suit his interests and abilities. Most students find that participation in one or more of these organizations helps them feel like an integral part of school life.

A meaningful portion of life at Auburn High School is participation in the many

This section of our yearbook is a special one in many ways. The students pictured in the next few pages are those who have been especially honored by their classmates or teachers.

Miss Auburn High is a senior girl chosen by the entire student body as the best representative of the school. This is the highest honor a girl can receive at Auburn High School.

Sixteen beauty candidates from grades ten through twelve are chosen by the Tiger Staff to grace the pages of the yearbook. Eight are selected as Beauties by impartial judges at the annual Beauty Tea. The Halloween Queens and Miss Homecoming are chosen by popular vote of the students.

The teachers choose the senior girl they deem the best citizen as Good Citizenship Girl.

Each class selects a boy and a girl as Class Favorites.

Those who appear in the Who's Who section are chosen by the seniors for a special characteristic they have exhibited in school life.

Students who have been especially honored in the above ways are presented in . . .

Miss Penny Arant

Miss Auburn High

Miss Penny Arant was selected as Miss Auburn High for 1963-1964. Truly deserving of this honor, Penny has been a good student, a good leader, and an active participant in many activities. She has served as a representative on Student Council, has been on Morning Watch for the past three years and was chaplain in her junior year. She has been active in Pep Club, serving a term as treasurer, as well as being cheerleader this year. Penny has been a member of Interclub Council and was inducted into National Honor Society in her junior year. She has been a candidate for Halloween Queen and Miss March of Dimes and was a Class Favorite. Penny has always been an active member of the MYF at the First Methodist Church and has worked at the War Eagle Theatre. Penny is truly the type of girl we like to have representing Auburn High School.

Because healthy bodies as well as healthy minds produce healthy individuals, physical education and organized sports are an important part of the school.

This year we are especially proud of the football team for winning the Opelika Daily News Trophy by defeating the Opelika Bulldogs for the third consecutive year.

The newly formed cross-country team has represented us well, placing second in the State meet. Our basketball team has had an unusually good year this year, also.

Girls have an opportunity to participate in sports through tournaments sponsored by the physical education department and the G.A.A.

No matter whether our teams win or lose, sports give students a chance for physical development and experience as members of a team. Sports are a valuable part of education.

Play

Scenes

The Senior Play cast, under the direction of Mrs. Albert Bekus, Mrs. Michael Pullen, and Miss Betsy Lord, presented two performances of A. A. Milne's "The Red House Mystery," May 1-2.

Junior-Senior Prom

The week-end of the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom is always the red-letter date on the AHS social calendar, and this year's Prom was one of the most successful ever. For weeks before May 16, the Juniors hammered, painted, sewed, and most of all worried in preparation for the big night.

Buckets of paint, yards of material and weeks of hard work transformed the gym into a medieval estate complete with castle, jousting tents and ivy-covered stone walls.

The program for the evening included dancing to the music of the "Premiers," and the lead-out over the castle draw-bridge.

Susan High, escorted by John Cope, Junior Class Treasurer.

Keren Polidoro, escorted by Turner Hudson, Senior Class Treasurer.

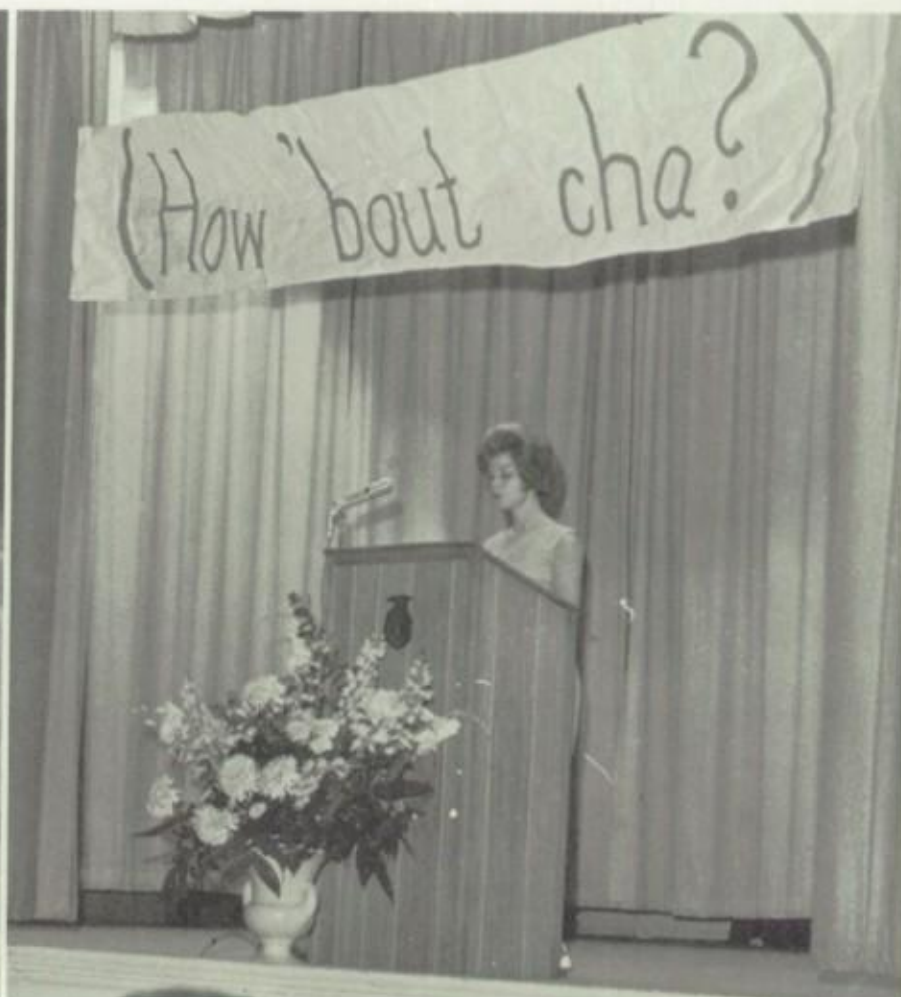

Penny Arant, Miss Auburn High, escorted by Dan Draper.

Class Night

"Stanley Lester leaves his sex appeal to Gary Jackson."

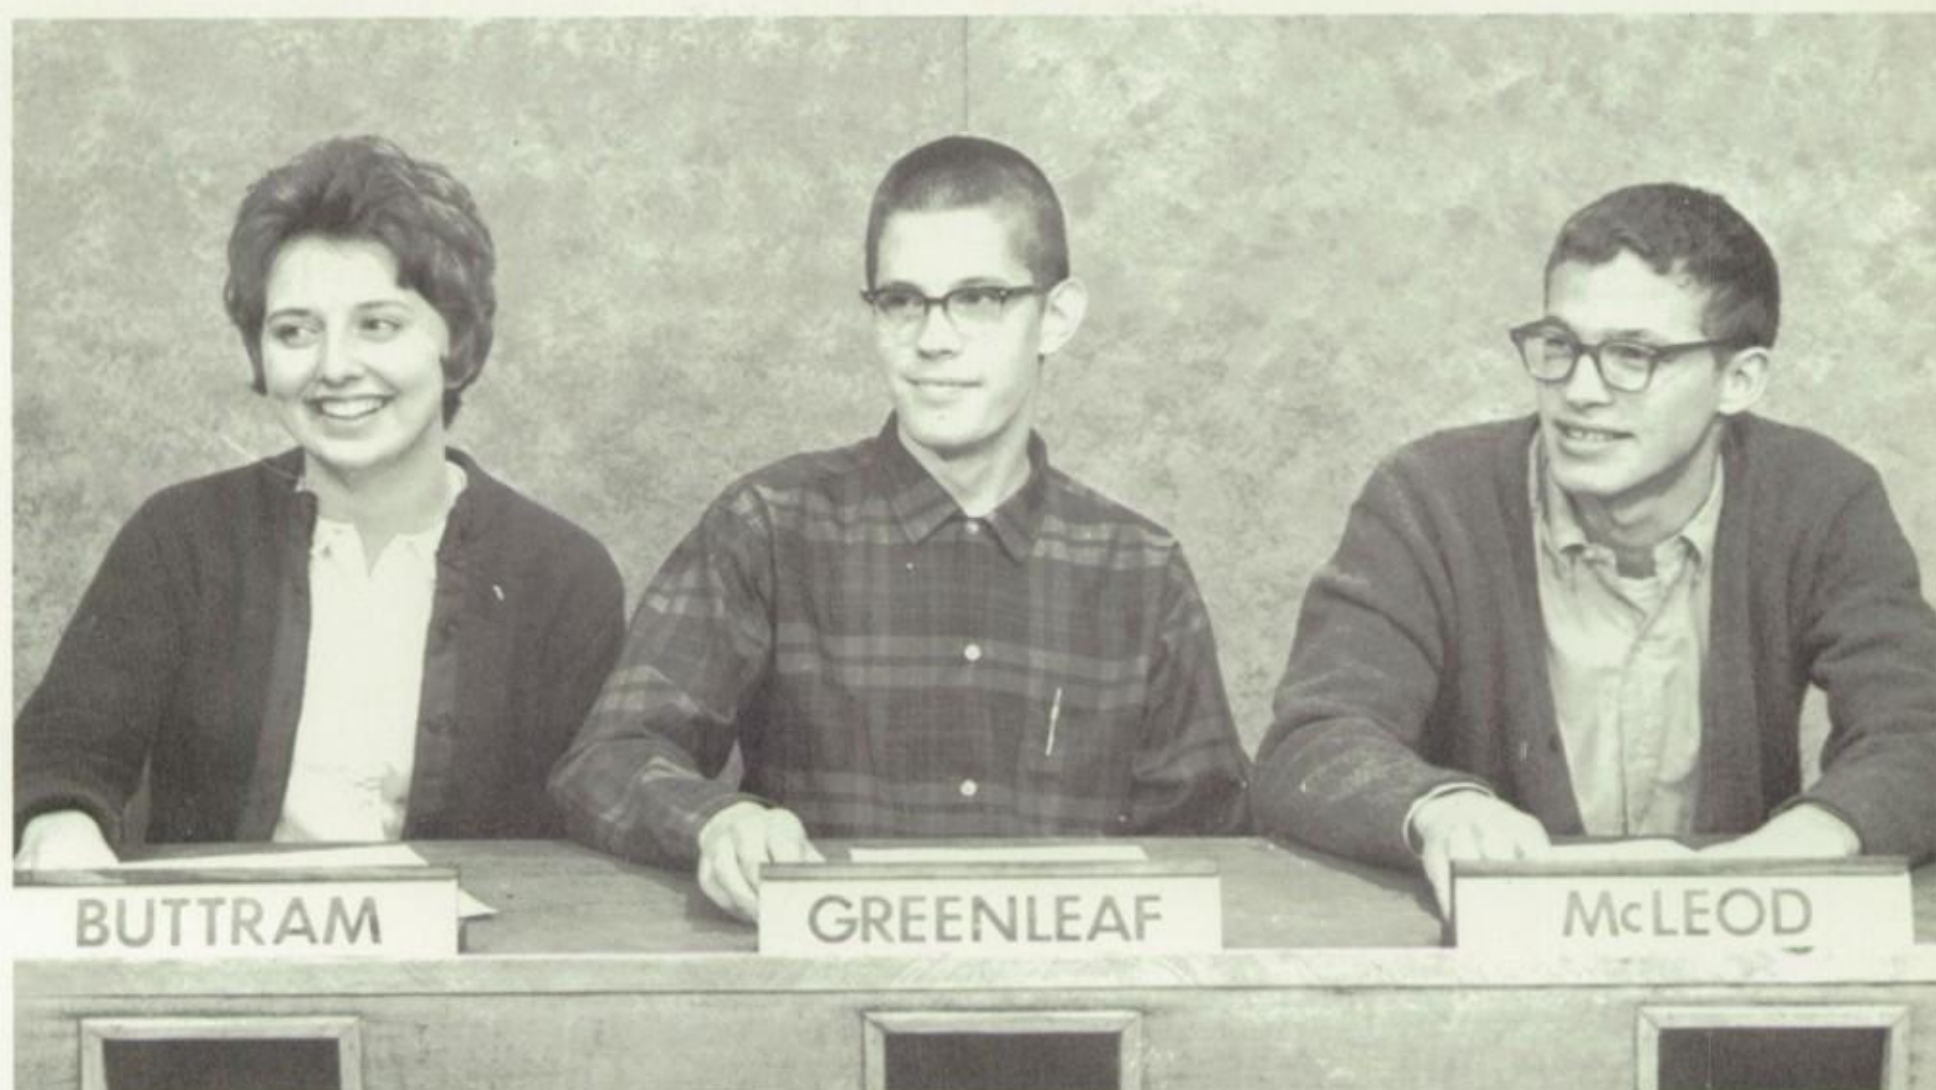

"Eddie Raymond leaves his dancing ability to Cecil Watkins."
